Wayne Bank Holds Drive For Pike County Humane Society

Pike County, PA – During the month of May, Wayne Bank’s Lords Valley and Shohola Community Offices will collect needed items for the Pike County Humane Society.

The drive will run from May 1-31, and each Community Office will have a collection box set up in their lobby, where items can be dropped off during regular business hours.

“We are so happy to be able to support The Pike County Humane Society through this drive,” stated Jennifer Sinatra, Branch Specialist for Wayne Bank’s Shohola Community Office. “The Humane Society runs solely on donations and has a wish list of much needed items for the animals who are waiting to find their forever homes. Between our Shohola and Lords Valley Offices, we are hoping to collect as many wish list items as we can. We encourage everyone to please stop by our lobbies with a donation, so that together we can give back to this wonderful community organization.”

The Pike County Humane Society is a non-profit, no-kill, animal shelter that runs solely on donations. Items such as dog and cat food, treats, toys, beds, cat litter, cleaning supplies, and rabbit food and treats are greatly needed. For more information, to make a donation, or to see the full wish list, please visit <http://www.pikecountyhumanesociety.com/>.
